

→ What is The Technology Capacity Project?

We are pleased to announce an exciting opportunity from TechSoup Global to provide California domestic violence organizations with the technology resources they need to achieve their stated mission. Supported by Blue Shield of California Foundation, TechSoup's goal in this important effort is to identify the most critical technology challenges facing Blue Shield Against Violence (BSAV) grantees today, then deliver to those grantees the targeted services and resources they need to succeed.

As part of this project, TechSoup will provide BSAV grantees a combination of resources and services, including:

- FREE hardware, software and cloudware resources to meet the specific needs of BSAV grantees. BSAV grantees will have $1,250 to access TechSoup's technology product donations from more than 48 leading technology partners, including Microsoft, Cisco, Intuit, and Symantec.
- Access to a TechSoup Account Manager who can help grantees register, expedite the qualification process, assist with donation requests, and ensure that grantee organizations maximize the benefits of TechSoup's various services.
- Advance notice of special offerings, new products, or changes in program guidelines through online and phone contact, as needed.
- Customized tools, tips, and content for creating a healthy and secure computing environment at grantee organizations.
- A free series of TechSoup Webinars and online discussion forums for grantees to share successful technology capacity building practices.

→ Registration Requirements

In order to take advantage of these offerings, BSAV grantees will be required to attend three introductory webinars and register with TechSoup.

Our first webinar titled "Getting the Most from TechSoup and the Technology Capacity Project" will be offered on November 22, 2011 from 1-2 p.m. PST.
